StimmEnergetics meets Healing Sound / 7-Day Intensive

We invite you to join us this week in a co-creative, playful and transforming process with and through your voice. The purpose is reconnecting consciousness and voice with our creative potential that shows up when we open the energy field of the heart. Once the door is open, the path for healing and abundance of ideas, innovations, visions, and dreams unfolds freely. That has tremendous impact and the power to change our personal reality as well as the one of the world. Our voice starts implementing these impulses by making audible what lives inside us.

WHAT?

We are planning a weekly retreat with a group of max. 20 people,

- that want to work intensively, yet relaxed and easily with their voice,
- that want to know and use their creative and healing qualities,
- that want to turn deep towards themselves and recharge their batteries
- that want to use their voice professionally and expand their vocal skills,
- that want to raise their vibration and level of consciousness permanently,
- that are looking for emotional balance and mental openness,
- that want to achieve coherence of the heart, brain, and gut feelings,
- that want to reconnect with the source of creative power in the heart,
- that are on a path of heart-centered consciousness,
- that want to share their creative ideas and carry them into the world by giving them a voice

HOW?

Arrival is on Sunday, 27.5. 2018.

We start in the evening with dinner followed by a session where we introduce and tune into this kind of vocal work. WHO?

We have been exploring the relationship and effects of voice, consciousness technology and energy fields for many years now. On our way we developed both individual and co-creative modalities, called StimmEnergetics and HealingSound, that combine vocal work, improvisation, creativity, as well as tools of energy work, transformation of consciousness and different forms of meditation. This approach can increase the quality of life, well-being and fulfillment dramatically in every area of life. Apart from that, it is very conducive to the use of the voice itself and the expansion of consciousness.

Katharina Felice is a professional singer and actress being on stage for many years, with a 30 year teaching expertise in the field of movement, singing, vocal training and language. Being highly intuitive she included the vibrational, subtle levels of human experience in working with the voice from the start and has completed various training courses in this field, including: Matrix Energetics and Holo fractography Theory. She developed StimmEnergetics as a way to evolve voice and consciousness in conjunction with an awareness for energy fields. In 2014 she published her first book.

Roswitha Paula Heruth is a naturopath, body and shiatsu therapist with more than 30 years of experience and diverse trainings in energy work, among others Matrix Energetics, Quantum Entrainment and Innerwise. In addition to her healing work, she has been active as a singer with a focus on improvisation for many years. The combination of healing process work and voice improvisation has given rise to her approach HealingSound.
